The Montgomery County Board can publish my name, my picture, a picture of my work, or information about my background ONLY if I tell them it’s OK and sign their Consent Form.

I DO NOT have to sign the Board’s Consent Form.

If I DO sign, it means I am telling the Board it is OK to share my information as a way to help people understand the Board’s services and its work, or to help people better understand people with disabilities.

If I sign the form, I’m only giving them the OK to share my information for ONE year. After that, Board staff will have to ask me again.

My picture or information could be used:
- On websites
- On social media sites like Facebook and YouTube
- In presentations
- In printed items, like brochures or reports
- In videos
- In a book or story
- On TV or radio news
- In a newspaper
- In ways not listed here

If I give my OK, I understand that I will not be paid.

If I give my OK, I understand that I cannot demand to approve materials before or after they are published.

If I change my mind and don’t want the Board to use my picture or information, I need to tell the Board’s Communications staff in writing. I can do this, or my guardian can tell them for me. They will need to send an e-mail that says I’ve changed my mind to communityrelations@mcbdds.org or send notice in the mail to MCBDDS Communications Department, 5450 Salem Avenue, Dayton, OH 45426.

(Please turn over for more information)
Some of the Montgomery County Board’s Communications Tools

Above is a picture of the Montgomery County Board’s website. It can be found by visiting www.mcbdds.org.

Above is a picture of the Montgomery County Board’s Facebook page. If you have a Facebook account, it can be found by entering “Montgomery County Board of Developmental Disabilities” in the search bar.

Above is a picture of the Montgomery County Board’s YouTube page. It can be found by entering “Montgomery County Board of DD” in the search bar.

Above is an example of the Board’s print newsletter, which is called the “Board Bits.”

If you would like help with any of these tools, please call 937-827-9200.